A CUT above

Conveniently located in the burgeoning neighborhood of Downtown Manhattan, CUT by Wolfgang Puck is the perfect location for your next private gathering, promising warm hospitality, award-winning cuisine and personalized planning for each event.

From an intimate private dining room to the contemporary and electric setting of the main dining room, bar and lounge areas, the team at CUT will make your next event the talk of the town.

PRIVATE DINING ROOM

The private dining room at CUT offers a warm and inviting space perfect for an intimate gathering, business lunch or celebratory event. The room is complete with faux gold leaf wood, and gilt curtains which surround a wall of glass which gives guests a one-of-a-kind view into the CUT kitchen.

BAR & LOUNGE

The bar and lounge resemble that of a vast and historic library filled with rare vellum bound books, and red neon lighting inspired by the Louvre's Pyramid Claude Leveque. Deep red velvet seating softens the space as well as leather cladded reading lights along the bar top, creating an intimate space for all to imbibe.

MAIN DINING ROOM

While paying homage to the very essential and recognizable elements of European design and architecture, CUT New York presents a bold and contemporary dining environment. The space is accented with rich red chairs, cozy banquet seating, gold silk curtains, and the works of acclaimed artists Alex Israel, Tracey Emin and Julie Mehretu.

FULL BUYOUT

The restaurant's interior features dark wood-paneled floors, floor-to-ceiling windows adorned with vibrant curtains, and plush leather and velvet seating, creating a sultry yet inviting atmosphere. Artistic elements, including a diptych by Alex Israel titled "The Chef," curated by Puck's wife Gelila, add a contemporary flair to the space . With its blend of luxurious design and curated artwork, CUT offers a dining experience that is both elegant and dynamic.
